Foreword

*"O wad some Power the giftie gie us
To see oursels as ithers see us!"*

With this passage from the poet Robert Burns, do we, the editors of The Spires of 1939, express our aim in the theme of this yearbook. As students at Catholic Central we have studied at the scarred and battered desks, tramped the halls worn deep by many feet, followed the teams on field, cinder path, and hardwood court, always under the inspiring and guiding shadow of the Spires. Those tall, majestic pinnacles have been the foundation of our religious instruction; they have been an inspiration to our high ideals; their kindly unseen eyes have watched us with a never-breaking vigil; 'neath their lofty heights we met in September — and parted in June.

We have endeavored to recreate this past year for you through the medium of words and pictures which without the Spires would be incomplete. Thus we have borrowed their shadow, and it shall fall on each divisional page of this yearbook.

With it as our theme, we hope to paint a true picture of Catholic Central. To the graduate may it be a foundation of memories, to the underclassmen a link of endeavor.

Class Resume

The business and social undertakings of the Senior Class are many and difficult. From the first day to the last, the year was crowded with activities carried out successfully under the guidance and advice of the principal, Father Murphy and the senior advisors, Sister M. Damien and Sister M. Honora.

Class Resume

After a vigorous campaign for election of officers in October, the class placed its welfare in the hands of Edward Leonard, president; Anne Devine, vice-president; Patricia Pyman, secretary; and James Rose, treasurer.

October 8 marked the beginning of the social events when the annual Homecoming was observed with its traditional King and Queen ceremonies. This was followed by the Mixer at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Roller-skating Parties at Ramona Park were great attractions too. February 20 marked one of these successful gatherings.

February 1 and 3 will long be remembered by the Seniors as their last Retreat in high school. Above all, the sound advice given by Father Hart made a deep impression that will long remain with the students throughout and beyond their high school careers. This month also saw the final edition of the school paper put out by the senior staff.

Without question, the publication of the Spires is one of the greatest achievements of the class of '39. Theirs is the distinctive honor of producing a yearbook that will be a key to the pleasant past and a guide for a hopeful, confident future. Although it was a project of the entire year, the actual work was not begun until the latter part of February when the Royalty Contest was sponsored. Since then, the editorial work, photography, and getting material ready for the printers has kept the production staff very busy.

The Senior Play, "Smilin' Through," the most dramatic event of the year, took place April 18 and 19 in the South High auditorium.

May and June will witness the preparation for the final exercises of the class of '39.

Class Poem

*We pause in the rush — so long it's been ours,
The constantly moving four years,
We've spent in this, the school of our choice —
The school which each one reveres.
As freshies and sophomores, we found that we were
So innocent — helpless, as one
Who, prisoned for life and doomed to fate,
Would gaze at the rising sun.*

*We are not aware that our happiest years
Are already on their way,
We feel, oh, so burdened, and still quite afraid —
Awaiting a more joyous day.
As juniors together — so proud we became,
Our heads and our chests carried high,
Like peacocks we strutted, our feathers displayed,
Ever eager for flattering cries.*

*We realize now as never before
That definite plans we must choose.
And now we foresee that once at the top
One has nothing to gain — much to lose.
Then seniors — alas — all in triumph, rejoiced.
But, true, not for long — just a year.
And then our tune changed — our gayety lost,
Sad thoughts had brought many a tear.*

*We're leaving it all — the school that we love;
The friends we have made — lass and lad;
The teachers that guided us on through the years —
We're leaving it all. Yes, we're sad!
We've tried to be faithful to this beloved school,
And tried with the best of our might,
To bring to its portals, a name of good will,
Good fellowship, honesty, right.*

*We trust that in time when we shall return
To gaze at its strong, Christian youth,
We'll be able to smile and say with deep pride,
"Alma Mater — thou teacher of truth!"*

President's Message

Reverend Fathers, dear Teachers, beloved parents, friends, and classmates:

The long-looked-for day is ours — our commencement! And with it comes feelings of joy and sorrow; joy because we are realizing the hopes and ambitions of school life, and because our work has reached its fulfillment; sorrow because we must bid farewell to all who have been instrumental in making our high school career happy and successful.

Tonight, we cast aside the looks of adolescence and become men and women of the world. Immediately there is a challenge thrown out to all the graduates. It is: Shall the forces of social unrest, economic instability, and the individual differences between our neighbor and us, destroy our Christian character? Signs of coming storms are all around us. We are stepping out into a world whose political systems are tottering; whose economic structure is in grave danger; into a world which has swept out of the minds of millions the old standards of morality and religion.

The Church, the home, the press all must share with the school, the responsibility of building systematic religious and moral principles that will produce wholesome lives, for upon the high school graduate falls the duty of influencing society. Our secular knowledge, the ideals of Catholic Central, and our religion are the tools for right living. Secular knowledge, the common high school education, has opened the channels that lead to firm political and economic circumstances; to offset any possibility of doubt, our school has taught us how to think logically that we may solve the practical problems of the hour. We must uphold society with Christian ideas and help to purify the social atmosphere by our good examples.

Our happiness tonight is intermingled with feelings of sadness and of great appreciation. We acknowledge our debt of gratitude to those who have provided for us a Christian education; first of all to our Most Reverend Bishop Joseph Gabriel Pinten, who has so faithfully provided for the spiritual interests of Catholic Central; to our Superintendent, Father Flannery, who has so ably directed the progress of Catholic Central; to our principal, Father Murphy, who has devoted his time, in its entirety, for the good of our school; to our Vice-Principal, Father Bolger, and to all the members of the faculty, who have worked so diligently to prepare us for a successful Christian life.

Parents and teachers, but for your willing sacrifices and encouragement, we might never have attained our present happiness — the honor of graduation. May our lives be truly worthy of you and your pious example, and may we never disappoint your expectations.

Classmates — endeared to one another by the joys and trials of school life — what is there to say? Together we have forged the bonds of affection for our Alma Mater, and our hearts would be cold, indeed, should they remain unmoved by this day of days. Our school asks us to frequently recall our school days and be stirred anew by the uplifting impulses which woke within when we studied and played beneath — The Cathedral Spires. The Class of '39 goes forward laboring to uphold the interests of Home, Country, and Church. May the coming years be filled with blessings and success and may each member of this splendid class ever be true to those principles and high ideals which are the inheritance of every graduate of Catholic Central. Farewell.

— Edward Leonard

Junior Class Resume

The Junior Class of '39 took an active part in the social events of the school. Getting off on a good start with the Junior Mixer on November 23 at the Knights of Columbus Hall they organized and planned well their activities for the year. The election of class officers following in early December resulted thus: Donald Long, president; Betty Sherman, vice-president; Anna Marie Connell, secretary; and Patrick Reynolds, treasurer. Advisors include: Sister M. Rosalina, Sister M. Roberta, Sister M. Eucharist, and Sister M. Isabel.

A roller-skating party at Ramona Gardens on February 6 was a successful venture.

Edward Kuzmich, through the combined efforts of the Juniors, was named King of the yearbook contest which closed on March 17.

The final event of the year took place on May 19, with the successful presentation of the class party, the J-Hop.

Adding to the activities of the class were the various pep meetings sponsored under the supervision of Father Bolger and the class advisors.

Literary talent among the Juniors was displayed by Kenneth Marin, who won an essay contest sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America Association, on the subject, "Aims and Purposes of the Catholic Daughters of America."

In all, the Junior Class of '39 had made wonderful preparation for its admittance into the Senior study hall next September.

The purpose of the Student Council is to enforce law and order throughout the halls of Catholic Central. Courtesy and accommodation are slogans of the members, who are ever ready to help whenever needed.

Under the direction of Sister M. Damien in the boys' building, and Sister M. Clare in the girls', the organization did splendid work.

The C. C. Student Council also belongs to the Inter-High Student Council which meets every month at a different city school. Richard McCormick is the treasurer of the I. H. S. C. and the president of the local organization. The other officers are:

Ushers' Club

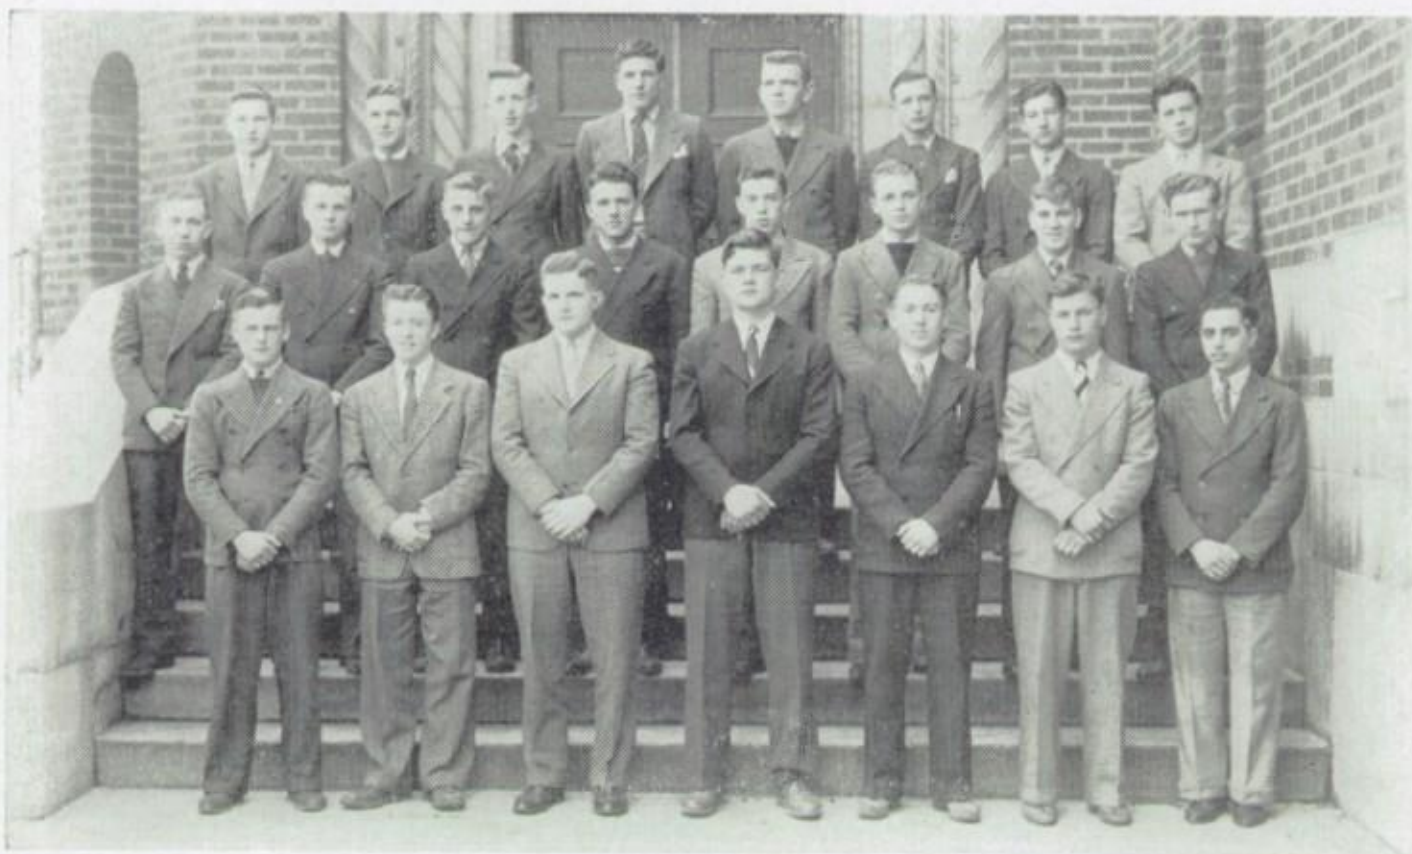

The Ushers' Club was founded in 1936 for the purpose of attaining good order at all assemblies. The organization very capably carried out this aim. Under the leadership of Robert Long and its advisor, Sister M. Roberta, the membership of the club has been nearly doubled. Together with regular assemblies, the ushers took charge of many special occasions, such as the Retreat, Inter-Racial Rally, Basketball games, Holy Week services, Holy Mass during the months of October and May, and the Senior Play.

During its short life, the Ushers' Club has gained the respect and admiration of both the student body and the faculty. Even though its responsibilities were heavy at times, it has never failed to maintain the dignity and poise which is one of its admirable qualities.

The officers are:

Membership in the 4C's, a chapter of the Quill and Scroll Society, known as the Catholic Central Chesterton Chapter, is attained by outstanding work on the "Blue and White" and "Spires" publications.

The purpose of this international honorary organization is to inspire its members to greater effort and improvement in the journalism department; to obtain greater recognition of the journalism department; to obtain greater recognition of the journalism work on the part of high school students.

Those recognized for their outstanding work on the school paper are Richard Bechtold, Jack Chulski, Evelyn Emery, Eugene Kozak, Mary McGinn, Geraldine Schmidt, Mary Ellen Van Buren, Mary Westdorp. Felix Suchowolec received recognition for his work on the yearbook.

Margaret Milanowski, '38 president of the former chapter, acted as chairman of the initiation held April 30, aided by Anastasia Bensevicz, John Hormuth, and Joseph Pattock, all of whom are members of the first chapter established at Catholic Central. Rev. William J. Murphy delivered the welcome address. The program consisted of Rev. Joseph C. Walen of St. Joseph Seminary, guest speaker, a talk on "Newspaper as a Hobby" by John Hormuth, vocal selections by William Host and "Is a Press Conference Worth While?" by Mary McGinn.

Spires Staff

Under the supervision of Sister M. Euphemia, the Spires staff went into its second year of organization. The members selected for the staff immediately made plans for a bigger and better yearbook. Through March, April, and May, the members voluntarily gave up much of their time in order that the yearbook might be a crowning achievement and a lasting memory of the Class of '39.

To make the subscription campaign bigger and more spectacular, individual pictures of the underclassmen were planned to become a part of the annual for the first time. This added feature boosted the Spires contest to 600 subscriptions.

Le Cercle Francais was organized last September, under the supervision of Sister M. Irma, for all second-year French students. A chairman for each meeting was elected by drawing ballots.

This club was organized to bring the students closer to the French customs and language by means of a literary and social meeting held twice each month. Meetings were conducted according to parliamentary law procedure.

The students corresponded with students in France, from whom they have learned the many peculiarities of the French language. Letters have been received from such places as Versailles, Bordeaux, Paris.

A scrap book was made by the students, consisting of information about buildings, coins, art, stamps, and customs of France.

The officers are:

President	Wayne Snyder
Vice-President	Norma O'Brien
Secretary	Leocadia Bartoka
Treasurer	Wilfred Magnan

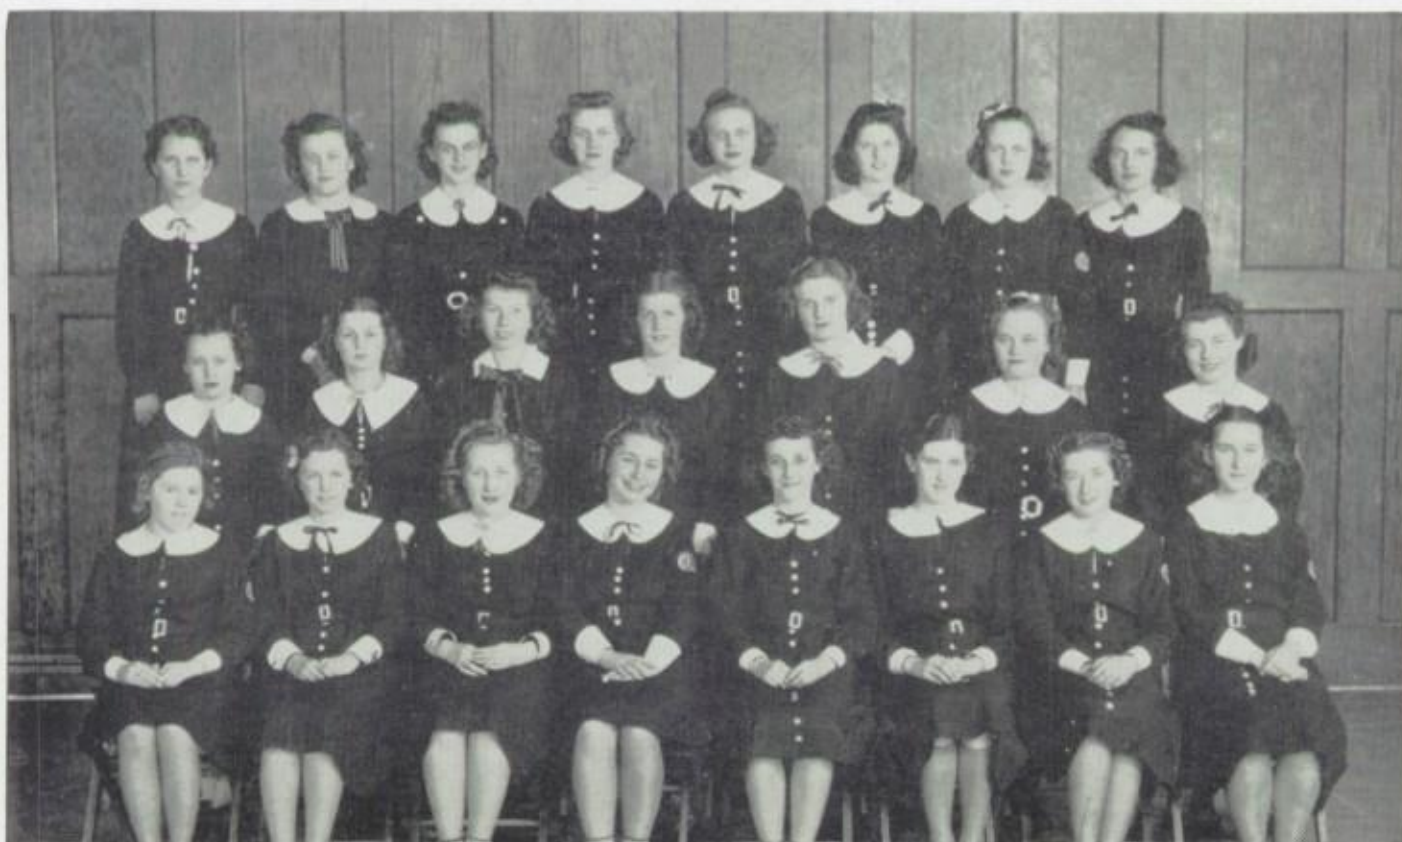

Euclidian Club

The Euclidian Club, sponsored by Sister M. Rose Marie, opened a year of activities by staging an initiation for its new members shortly after the election of officers. At the first meeting, President Gloria Freeman pointed out to the new members the purpose of such an organization, namely the promotion of interest in the study of mathematics, the development of an appreciation for the truth and beauty in mathematics and our dependency upon it in practical life, and the inspiration of the members with nobler phases of the subject enabling them in turn to inspire the coming generations.

Two outstanding features of the year were the plays, "A Mathematical Nightmare," presented by the Juniors to show the results if mathematics should be prohibited, and "A Problem Play," presented by the Sophomores to show the simple, correct way of solving any mathematical problem. The Club's main social event, a party to which every member was invited, took place at Christmas time. And a true mathematical party it was, for colorful geometrical figures decorated the walls and were even constructed in the formation of favors and place-cards. Concluding activities, the Seniors presented a Symposium, "Sunshine and Mathematics," on May 18.

The members, not appearing in the picture are: Marie Aernauts, Leocadia Bartoka, Rose Barwacz, Dorothy Beerboom, Julia Cebelak, Dolores Czeriraski, Mary Ann Doley, Mary DeWildt, Barbara Driscoll, Helen Golubieski, Patricia Haraburda, Jeanne Hayes, Arlene Hernes, Rosemary Herrmann, Louise Imperi, Vivian Junghans, Albina Kamsiskas, Martha Kolowicz, Jean Kruizenga, Elizabeth Ksiskiewicz, Mary Levandosky, Caroline McKnight, Betty Malski, Ellen Louise Mapps, Rosemary Martin, Dorothy Masiewicz, Mary Jane Pobesjeski, Sophie Poplowski, Lavinia Powers, Irene Parbel, Rose Marie Sadlowski, Patricia Simmons, Helen Staskiewicz, Patricia Stuart, Marian Tursky, Lillian Wasel, Wanda Wasko and Thelma Willacker.

The Varsity Club, one of the most active clubs at Catholic Central, is composed of the winners of major C.C. athletic awards. The purpose of the organization is to promote good feeling and sportsmanship among the athletes. Early in the fall the initiation of sixteen new members resulted in the largest number to be enrolled at one time since the club's foundation.

The various activities of the Varsity Club include the annual fall initiation, which has become a tradition at Catholic, a banquet and the spring beach party. This year the club sold candy at the home basketball games and gave financial support to the annual.

The officers of the 1938-39 organization were: President, Dick Collins; Vice-President, Ed Leonard; Secretary, Jack Hart; Treasurer, Bob Long.

Philately Club

Membership to the Philately Club was open to all students who were active collectors of stamps.

The purpose of this club was to get a better knowledge of stamps and the art and science in collecting them. Meetings were held every Tuesday at which stamps were traded and a talk on stamps given. A new chairman was elected during each meeting to take charge of the program.

The officers of the club, under the sponsorship of Sister M. Annabel, are:

President	Wayne Snyder
Vice-President	Donald Bremer
Secretary	Mary L. McKnight
Treasurer	Robert Luikens

Other members of the organization are: Norbert Strutzel, Edward Stryzewski, Gerald Barofsky, Francine Loftis, Lorraine Budnick, and Andrew Tomaszewski.

Seated — Robert Luikens, Wayne Snyder, Mary Louise McKnight, Donald Bremer.
Standing — Edward Stryzewski, Francine Loftis, Norbert Strutzel, Lorraine Budnick, Gerald Barofsky.

Football games, pep meetings, and assemblies were enlivened during the past year by the welcome presence of the school band, under the successful direction of Mr. Herman C. Johnson.

The football season provided the initiation of the band into active service. Following in close succession, the band exhibited its abilities in parades; namely the Farm Festival, and the Santa Claus parades during November.

For the financial backing of the band, the annual Gala Night was held November 26 with Sister M. Leonilla, the advisor, as faculty chairman, and Stafford Grady, student chairman. Many hands made this affair a great success.

The annual Band Concert was held May 10 in the St. Cecilia Auditorium with Richard Bechtold and Raymond Strzalko, masters of the trumpet and saxophone, respectively, among the soloists.

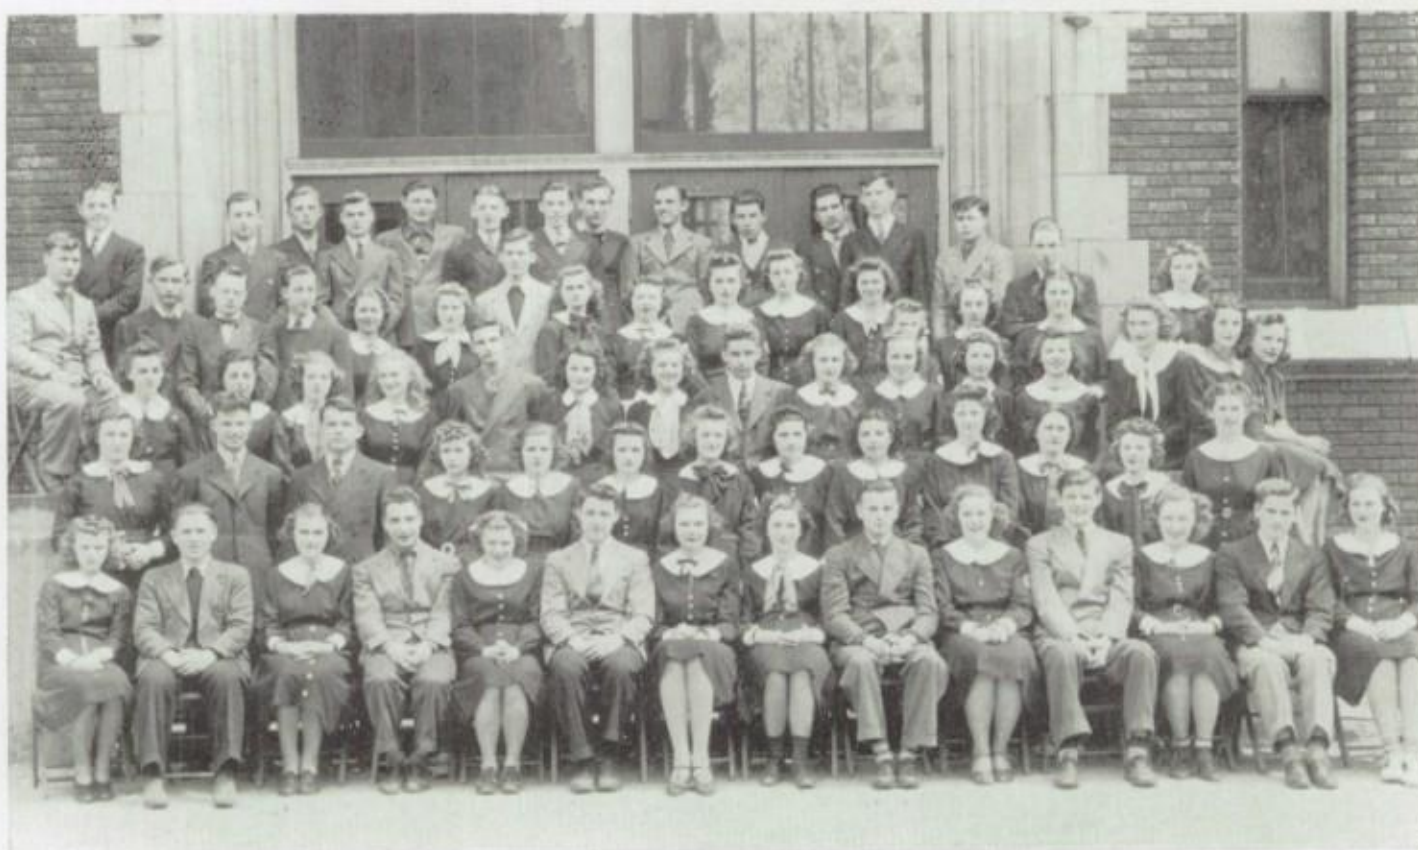

Orchestra

The orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Herman C. Johnson, although practicing only twice a week, made great progress and certainly added to the enjoyment of those attending the Senior Play. In accordance with the Play, the strains of "Smilin' Through" formed the musical background. Two other pieces which proved themselves favorites during the year were "Sweethearts" and "Gems of Tschaikowski."

First Violins — Dolores Klukowski, Melbourne Simon, Mildred Willacker, Maxine Fortier. Second Violins — Alice Jablonski, Esther McAleer, Mary Jane Jordan, Cecilia Spruit, Pearl Haraburda, Norrine Walsh. Cello — Thelma Willacker. String Bass — Evelyn Emery. Trumpet — Robert Shears. Baritone — James Poterack. Saxophone — Lawrence Brogger. Trombone — Eugene Panigot. Drums — Frank Selzer. Clarinets — Raymond Strzalko, Irene Parbel. Piano — Mary Westdorp. Director — Herman C. Senior Mixed Chorus

"Sing and be Happy!" Such is the slogan of the senior choral group of '39. Always eager and alert, the members rendered a spirited account of themselves in their interpretations of many choice selections. "Emitte Spiritum Tuum," "The Blue Danube," "Listen to the Lambs," and "I Heard a Forest Praying," were the established favorites.

The senior mixed chorus attributes its success to the entire cooperative personnel, especially the energetic direction of Sister M. Annette.

Octette

Eight students of the Senior class comprise the well-known Catholic Central Octette, a section of the mixed chorus group, directed by Rev. Thomas J. Bolger. They are Louise Sherman, Edwardine Dennis, Gloria Freeman, Monica McNamara, Alfred Jannausch, William Host, James Esch and William Rademacher. The accompanist is Mary Zoellner.

The Octette was honored by an invitation to sing on the St. Cecilia Young Musicians' Program during the Christmas season. Following that appearance they sang for the newly established Negro Mission, February 1, entertained the St. Andrew Holy Name Society at their breakfast, January 9, rendered the title song "Smilin' Through" at the Senior Play, took part in the Band Concert Program May 11, and will complete a year of fine work with two selections on Class Night.

Graduates in Music

Two unusually talented members of the class of '39, Doris Farrell and Edwardine Dennis, will be presented in a piano graduation recital in June.

Having previously studied at Holy Name parish, Edwardine Dennis came to Catholic Central and seriously pursued the piano course under the direction of Sister M. Annette. Doris Farrell has studied ten consecutive years with Sister M. Annette. Both girls are to be complimented for having done very creditable work as indicated by the following choice selections to be played at their recital:

Polonaise E minor	MacDowell
Italian Concerto	Bach
Gondoliera	Moszkowski
Sonata Pathetique Rondo	Beethoven
Nocturne in F sharp major	Chopin
Reflets dans l'eau	Debussy

Homecoming

Madeline Heller, Irene Johnson, Doris Farrell, Ruth Turner, Geraldine Sichterman, George Burns, Betty Stratford, Edwardine Dennis, Angela White, Bee Marie Swanson.

The traditional series of Homecoming events, game, pep meeting, and coronation of the queen, took place on October 7 and 8.

A mock crowning was the main feature of the pep meeting sponsored by the Seniors on October 7 in the gymnasium. The hilarious events, portrayed by a group of fun-loving boys, preceded the introduction of the real queen and her court. Wise choices were embodied in the persons of the queen, Geraldine Sichterman, and her court, Ruth Turner, Madeline Heller, Doris Farrell, Edwardine Dennis, Bee Marie Swanson, Betty Stratford, Irene Johnson, and Angela White. To George Burns fell the privilege of crowning the queen.

The Homecoming game was a night affair at Houseman Field. All of Catholic's supporters, students, alumni, under the leadership of Mr. Frank (Ty) Hart, and friends were there to boost the Cougars on to a splendid victory over Tech with a score of 14-7.

Athletic Administration

Behind the scenes of sports, there is the work of an athletic administration, to which the average student pays little or no attention and without which the sports department could not exist.

Catholic Central's athletic organization is presided over by Reverend James P. Flannery, the Faculty Manager. The work of coaching the teams is in the hands of a staff composed of: Head Mentor Edward J. Killoran, who coaches the varsity football, track and basketball teams; Chester Laskowski '37, the football reserves; Reverend William J. Murphy, golf; Reverend Thomas J. Bolger, tennis; Reverend Charles W. Popell, freshman basketball; Reverend Bernard L. Sikorski, baseball.

The girls' athletic department is in charge of Miss Doris Kardes.

Another group of workers in this field which receives scant attention is the student athletic managers. Richard Collins, who was assisted by Daniel Kerwin, are the retiring Senior managers.

Jack Miller

The Cougar Cubs, under the guidance of Chet Laskowski, had another highly successful season. Playing a full six-game schedule the scrubs wound up in second place in the league standings with an average of .666, gained by virtue of four wins and two defeats. This was the second year in which Coach Laskowski led his team into the top division of the reserve league.

The Second is the testing ground for Varsity material, and this season's team revealed many excellent prospects for the coming years. A scrappy line and a shifty backfield featured the team's running attack. Their defensive play was exceptional for an inexperienced squad. Congratulations, Chet!

Summary

The Cougars launched their 1938 football campaign by taking a scrappy Coopersville team into camp by a score of 13 to 0. The team showed steady improvement by taking in turn Grand Haven and Davis Tech. In their next two encounters the squad met with setbacks at the hands of South and Ottawa. Leaving the city schedule, the team journeyed to Kalamazoo, where with five players injured, they were crushed by a strong St. Augustine team to the tune of 26 to 0. Following this the one bright spot of the season stood out! The Cougars defeated their traditional rivals, Central, for the first time in eight years. The boys slumped again next week and fell victim to a superior Creston squad. With the ball on the one-foot line, second down, the gun ended the final game of the year against Union. Here the Catholic Central team had to content themselves with a scoreless tie to end the season with a .500 average.

Behind the sensational pitching of Captain Ted Coffey, the Cougar nine this year held forth hopes of winding up at the top of the league. Starting from scratch, the new coach, Rev. Bernard L. Sikorski, had to build a team around a nucleus of lettermen from last year's ill-fated squad.

That his building was successful was apparent in the first game. With the help of Indian errors, the Catholic nine took Ottawa 7 to 3. The following week the Cougar ace moundsman hit his stride. Allowing only two hits in seven innings, Coffey held the Wildcats to one run. The three Parochial runs were sufficient to win this game. Continuing his streak, Ted permitted only one hit and no runs to Union. His teammates came through with two runs to put another game in the win column for Catholic.

With this start of three wins and no losses prospects for an extended streak and a good showing for the first time since the introduction of baseball into the school athletic program are high.

Catholic Central is represented on the cinder path this year by a group of versatile athletes. Among the group we find Albert Martin in the 440-yard dash, Francis Zelinski in the mile run, Alfred Jannausch in the half-mile and other outstanding performers. In the first meet the team edged out a victory by one-third point over the East Grand Rapids thinclads. The outstanding accomplishment of the day was the brilliant mile run by Francis Zelinski. In the following meet, Davis Tech, superior in the field events, downed the Cougars. However, Albert Martin in the 440-yard dash, Alfred Jannausch in the half-mile, Francis Zelinski in the mile captured first places for Catholic Central.

On your mark! Get set! Ready — go! The signal given, the Obstacle Relay began as an opening event of the Girls' Athletic Meet April 28, under the direction of Miss Doris Kardes.

The original numbers proved to be the outstanding feats of the evening. The Freshmen captured first honors for their presentation of "Nursery Rhymes," the Seniors and Juniors tied for second place with the former's version of a "Modern Dance" and the latter's version of "Dancing Through the Years," while the Sophomores offered "Swing Time." The Seniors overtopped their close competitors, the Juniors, by a slight margin in the Hurdles Relay only to be defeated by them in the ensuing Volleyball Game with a score 4 to 4 at the half that ended in a 7 to 10 triumph for the Juniors.

The events concluded with the Baton Relay, taken by the Sophomores, resulting in total points as follows: Freshmen 1100, Sophomores 1200, Juniors 1350, Seniors 1400.

Juanita Esch, Senior Class Manager, received from Father Flannery the plaque awarded to her winning class. It took the Seniors four years to achieve their goal but such an achievement was well worth the preparation.

Freshman Jean Rademaker, Sophomore Maxine Gable, Junior Betty Chapman, Senior Juanita Esch as Class Managers, and Phyllis Osborne, Shirley Schmidt, Zita Dobray, and Geraldine Schmidt as Original Number Managers are to be congratulated for their loyal leadership. The judges were Miss Margaret Knoll, Miss Evelyn Garant, Miss Grace Wood, and Miss Cynthia Heth.

"As I See It"

As the last pages of the Spires are being proofread and assembled for the presses, it seems appropriate to make a few acknowledgments and express a hope or two for the future.

I want to express my personal thanks to the members of the Editorial and Business Staffs, especially Felix Suchowolec, Anastasia Bensevich, Ray Kubiak, and the staff advisor, Sister M. Euphemia.

The Spires also owes a debt of gratitude to all those who have so kindly cooperated in taking pictures: George Burns, Chester Sherman, Arthur Borucki, Donald Bremer, Richard Emperor, Gertrude Matice, Olga Talas, John Dubinskas, and especially to the Versluis Studio which is responsible for most of the pictures appearing in the Spires. A word of recognition goes to Mr. Harry Gernhardt for the drawing of the Bishop's coat-of-arms; and to Jack Hart for his voluntary work and ideas for the yearbook.

Many of the problems that arose during the progress of the Spires reached their solution through the advice and assistance of Mr. Alvin C. Burkle of The Dean-Hicks Company.

The Publication has been a trying one. Its aim is a simple one — to present in words and pictures the story of those things that went to make up Catholic Central during 1938-39.

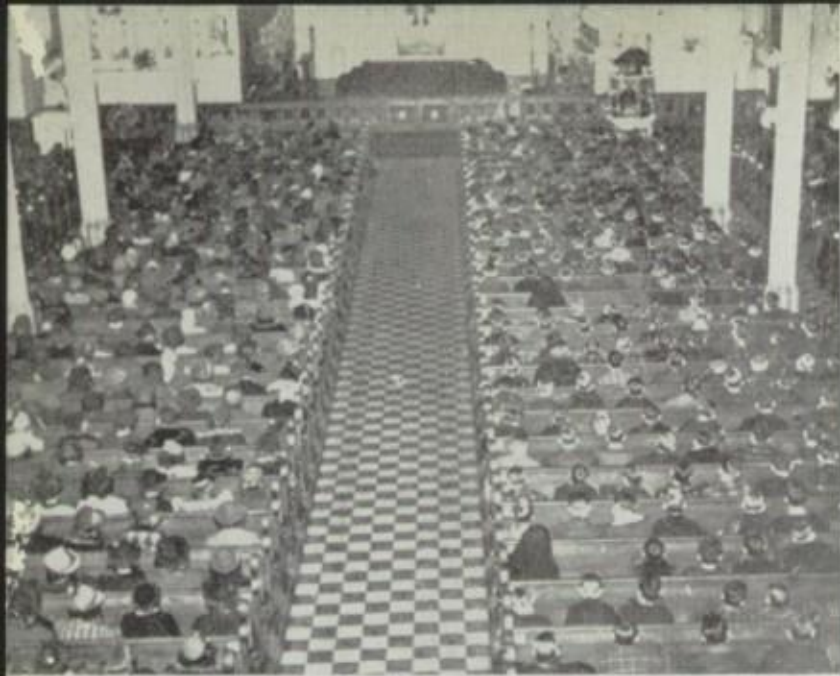

If this aim has been accomplished, the time spent on the Spires of 1939 has started a tradition that will live on at Catholic Central, and that time shall be considered supremely well spent. And so, with the hope that this second edition will be the forerunner of many bigger and better Spires in the future, this volume is concluded.
